Chuck and Ruth Fox – Thailand

The Foxes work with approximately 75,000 Akha hill tribe people in northern Thailand. Their ministry focus is on evangelism, pastoral care, education, leadership development and women's ministries. They have 3 adult children. To see photos of their ministry and read their journals, click here.

Peter and Sarah McCurdy with their 4 children

Sarah McCurdy – Dominican Republic

Sarah and her husband Peter attended the 2013 call retreat which led to their decision to begin the process of becoming missionaries. They will soon be leaving to serve in the Dominican Republic where they will provide support and encouragement to pastors and their families. They'll also extend their ministry into Cuba. The McCurdy's four children will go with them onto the field of service. To see photos and read their journals, click here.

David and Joyce Reed with their sons Aaron and Ian

David and Joyce Reed – Baja South, Mexico

The Reeds have been in Baja since 2000 working in theological education and new church development. In August 2016 David and Joyce will begin a new assignment as Regional Missionaries to Latin America in the area of Spiritual Renewal, Spiritual Formation and Vocational Calling. They are spending these next several months training in the field of spiritual direction. To read journals from their recent experiences in Cuba, click here.

Karen Smith - Thailand

Karen is currently on an extended ministry assignment here in the US. She continues to provide administrative assistance to the New Life Center Foundation in Chiang Mai, Thailand by writing grants and reports, public relations and supporting the staff. The NLCF works with young women who are victims of or at risk for human trafficking, forced labor or sexual abuse. No picture of Karen is used here to protect her and the sensitive nature of her ministry in Thailand. To read her journals click here.

Jeanine and Walt White are based in the US but their ministry takes them all over the world.

Jeanine and Walt White - Global Consultants

The Whites work with historically under-served people groups. They teach and train international partners, including cross-cultural workers, pastors and local leaders, how they can be more effective in communicating the good news of Jesus Christ. They are also involved in ongoing development projects and leadership development in Bangladesh. To see pictures of their ministry and read their journals, click here.
